The interface of the application is plain and simple to work with. Media files can be imported into the list via the file browser only, since the "drag and drop" method is not supported. Once you specify the output destination and format, you can proceed with the encoding process. Furthermore, you can configure audio and video settings, such as sample frequency, bitrate, aspect ratio and volume, when it comes to the size, quality, frame rate, channels and encoder. You can also preview the clip in a small, built-in media player, remove an item from the list or clear the entire queue, as well as enable DVDPack DIVX XVID AVI to WMV DVD Converter to automatically turn off the computer or open the output directory when the conversion is done.
